AMERICANS FIRED ON BY CHINESE

AIRPLANE BOMBS NEARBY CAMEL CARAVAN

PASSENGERS ON TRAIN HIDE UNDER COACHES

Twenty Americans, Nine Britishers, Several Japanese and Four League of Nations Representatives Were on Board.

Peking.—The international train which left Peking for Tientsin recently returned here after having been caught in a battle between the forces of Feng Yu-Hsiang and Li Ching-Ling at Yangtsun, twenty miles north of Tientsin.

Twenty Americans, nine Britishers, several prominent Japanese and four League of Nations representatives, sent to study the plague in Manchuria, who were on board, were forced to take refuge from bursting shells under the coaches of the stalled train.

Passengers included a number of women and children. All escaped unharm and declared they were none the worse for their experience, except for the discomfort or huddling under the train in the chilly weather.

Their experience, however, was not without its thrills. A bomb from an airplane fell in the midst of a camel train nearby and fragments penetrated the cars, which also were struck by several bullets.

When the international train was stopped at Yangtsun, an armored train belonging to Feng Yu-Hsiang, which had followed it, landed one thousand troops with artillery and began shelling the forces of Li Ching-Ling, the governor of Chihli, across the river.

As the guns opened fire the passengers on the international train who had alighted with the intention of walking or securing motor transportation to Tientsin, ran back to the train and took refuge under the cars.

News of their plight reached Peking and Willys R. Peck of the American legation hurried to the scene with a motor truck loaded with food and blankets. Subsequently the train was safely withdrawn from the fighting area to Laif Fang, twenty-five miles to the northwest, and thence back to Peking.

The foreign legations here have lodged strong protests with Feng against the move on Yangtsun.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS DANIELS ON THE STATE PRISON BOARD

Sacramento.—Gilbert B. Daniels of Sacramento, formerly chairman of the state board of control and at one time an Oakland publisher, was appointed by Governor Richardson as a member of the state board of prison directors to succeed George A. Van Smith, San Francisco banker. Van Smith resigned as a result of a sensational prison row which involved the board, and Daniels will fill his unexpired term, which ends in January, 1934.

There is still a vacancy on the board, as the governor has not filled the place left open by the resignation last spring of John Mattos, Jr., of Centerville, Alameda county.

Daniels resigned from the state board of control, to which position he was appointed by former Governor William D. Stephens, during the early part of Governor Richardson's term, in order to make a tour of the world. "Daniels stands for a strict enforcement of the laws, fair treatment for prisoners and a wise and conservative administration of the parole law," Governor Richardson said in announcing the appointment. "He is a kind man, a just man, a wise man, but not a sob sister. I feel particularly fortunate in securing his acceptance of the place."

French to Honor Colonel Sweeney
Paris.—The Journal says that the French government, on recommendation of Marshal Petain, has decided to raise Colonel Charles Sweeney of Spokane, Washington, to the high grade of grand officer of the Legion of Honor. Colonel Sweeney was head of the Sherifian air squadron, composed of American flyers who participated in the Moroccan campaign.

BANKERS BODY IS SCORED BY SOLON

CHARGES OVERTHROW OF THE INHERITANCE TAX SOUGHT

SAYS AIM OF LEAGUE IS TO DESTROY TAX LAWS

Makes Charge That the Organization Calling Itself the American Bankers' League Was Formed to Destroy Inheritance Tax Laws.

Washington.—The flat charge that the American Bankers' league had been organized to destroy all inheritance tax laws, both state and federal, was made in the house during debate on the tax bill by Representative Connally, Democrat, of Texas, during an attack on the activities of the Texas tax clubs which have opposed the tax.

Asserting that the bankers' league is the parent of the Texas and Iowa tax clubs, the Texan said these clubs were attempting to "intimidate the heads of the ways and means committee, Chairman Green and Representative Garner, Democrats, of Texas."

"Recently, he said, 'a delegation composed of State Senator R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth and three other gentlemen, who are members either of the Texas state senate or house, appeared before the members of congress from Texas in opposition to the inheritance tax.'

"Upon being closely pressed, each said he was opposed not alone to the federal tax but also was opposed to an inheritance tax by Texas. Speaker Satterwhite said he opposed all state inheritance taxes on lineal descendants."

"Upon information that I deem reliable, I make the charge that an organization calling itself the American Bankers' League, but which has been repudiated by the American Bankers' association, was organized for the purpose of destroying inheritance tax laws, and that it has received contributions from New York bankers."

COMMITTEE NAMES RICH AS EVADERS OF TAXES

Washington.—Sharp criticism of the methods of the internal revenue bureau in handling the tax cases of the Gulf Oil corporation, the Standard Oil Company of California and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation was made in testimony before a senate investigating committee made public with its presentation to the senate. Counsel and engineers employed by the committee charged that:

The government lost a total of $4,590,335 in taxes from the Gulf Oil corporation from 1915 to 1919, at the time Secretary Mellon held a large interest in it.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair and the solicitor of the bureau had been defied by division chiefs in the efforts to settle the Standard of California case, involving $3,378,000 in taxes directly and $25,000,000 indirectly.

The Sinclair Oil corporation had been able to obtain delay after delay in the settlement of its cases, with a result that as yet it was not closed for the year 1916.

Charges also were made that the tax cases of S. G. Kennedy and T. A. Springer, who made a profit of $6,000,000 on the sale of Oklahoma oil lands in 1916, were "kicked around from pillar to post until the statute of limitations ran and no tax was assessed against that profit."

Before Chairman Couzens submitted the testimony, his committee met and decided to send its complete findings to the treasury for criticism and comment before filing them with the senate, probably some time next month. With the submission of that report the senate inquiry into the internal revenue bureau, begun more than a year ago, will be finally closed.

Food Prices Continue to Mount
Washington.—Increases in retail food prices ranging from 2 to 5 per cent are shown in all of the twenty-five cities for which the department of labor has completed compilations for the month ending November 15. The 5 per cent maximum was reported for Butte. For the year ending November 15 the increase in the twenty-five cities ranged from 14 to 8 per cent.

CONG. FREE ATTENDS HISTORIC RECEPTION

Congressman and Mrs. Arthur M. Free were among the specially invited guests of the President and Mrs. Coolidge, who attended the diplomatic reception at the White House last night.

Diplomatic representatives of more than 50 countries accredited to this capital were the guests in whose honor President and Mrs. Coolidge entertained last night at the first of the State receptions of the season in the White House.

The traditional brilliance and picturesqueness of this reception, a function whose history dates back to the early administrations of American Presidents, was well maintained in the stateliness and color at last night's event. Shortly before nine o'clock, the hour set for the opening of the reception, the diplomats began to gather in the State dining room in an impressive procession of envoys in court uniforms with their many decorations, and the ladies of their house-holds in handsome gowns fashioned in the latest modes. The diplomatic line was arranged in accordance with rank and service in this capital of the diplomats.

On the stroke of nine a Marine band scarlet-coated bugler stationed at the foot of the grand staircase sounded a call, and President and Mrs. Coolidge, escorted by their military and naval aids in full uniform, appeared at the top of the stairs followed by the members of the cabinet and their wives.

To the strains of "Hail to the Chief," played by the Marine band orchestra, led by Capt. Wm. H. Santelmann, from its station in the palm-decked foyer, the chief executive and the first lady of the land and their entourage passed through the door of the blue room opening on the wide corridor and took up their station near the entrance to the green room and the reception began. They are not assisted in receiving. The cabinet stood in the blue room back of the line and watched the proceedings with great interest.

President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge had a word of special greeting for each envoy and their staffs as they approached, presented by Capt. Adolphus Andrews, U. S. N., and Col. Sherwood Cheney, U. S. A. After greeting their hosts the diplomats passed into the red and east rooms and held impromptu receptions and chatted with their friends, evidently enjoying the gay scene before them. The President and Mrs. Coolidge retired from the scene of the reception at 10:30 p. m. after the last of the guests had been received. Their progress from the blue room to the grand staircase was in the nature of an ovation as spontaneous applause broke out from many groups as they passed along. This they acknowledged with smiling bows. The music of the United States marine band orchestra tempted many to dancing in the east room after the formal reception was concluded.

S. N. HEDEGARD NEW CHAMBER HEAD

At the annual meeting Monday evening of Campbell Chamber of Commerce he principal item of business was the election of officers for 1926. They are:

President, S. N. Hedegard; Vice-President, T. A. Cutting; Secretary, G. E. Farley, Treasurer, Ralston Allison.

In his acceptance speech following a unanimous election, President Hedegard stressed the need of a united Chamber supported by representation from every other association and service organization in our community. He stated that with such a support this Chamber could make itself a most influential power for the upbuilding and progress of this district. Mr. Hedegard was assured of the hearty co-operation of those present. He has always been an active and tireless worker in every capacity and his townspeople have confidence in him for leadership the coming year. This will be no new position for him as he has held that honor and responsibility before and made good.

T. A. Cutting was made chairman of the special township committee, the position held by the late S. G. Rodeck. The committee reported its findings and was authorized to proceed with its good work.

A petition being duly presented signed by thirty residents, asking for a street light at each end of Alice Avenue, it was reported favorably and on motion received the endorsement of the Chamber.

On motion the policing committee was asked to secure a detailed report of collections and disbursements of the Williams Patrol Agency for its operation in Campbell.

Dr. Merrill of the district sewage committee outlined the progress of that body and stated that a preliminary survey of the district was necessary before any further work could be done and at the close of his talk the Chamber voted to support the committee in its campaign for the survey and Dr. Merrill will report this to his co-workers. About $5000 will be necessary for this survey and a special election will probably be called to vote this assessment as the County Board cannot appropriate funds for such a purpose.

WHIST PARTY

The first of the series of Whist parties, which Ada Rebekah Lodge is planning for the winter season was held Saturday evening in the dining room of the I. O. O. F. hall. The room was nearly filled to capacity with players who enjoyed a pleasant social time as well as a good game. A score or more of prizes had been donated and were chosen by the contestants in turn according to their scores.

The committee in charge were Mrs. E. J. Snow, Mrs. E. W. Ohlen and Mrs. Horace Lea.

The proceeds were divided between the Orphans Home at Gilroy and the Christmas fund for the local lodge with which to give the children of members a tree and good time.

Please call preferably after 4 P. M. at the Rural Delivery window.

SCHOOL CARNIVAL A BIG SUCCESS

A highly successful Christmas carnival was held in the Grammar school last evening under the direction of the teachers and the P. T. A. Booths and various departments were arranged in the Corridors, Cafeteria and Auditorium.

On the "Zone" there were numerous concessions which did a thriving business—"The African Dodger," Boxing Match, Fortune Teller, Grab Bag and others. Tables of fancy work and cooked foods attracted Christmas shoppers and busy housewives. The array of doll clothes was a magnet for many a little mother, whose family wardrobe needed replenishing.

The refreshment counter in the Cafeteria was well patronized.

The band furnished music at intervals during the evening and two programs were presented, one at 7:30 and the other at 9:30.

The first one was staged by the lower grades, several rooms being represented in some numbers. The opening number was "The Fairy Christmas Tree" by Miss Henderson's, Miss Hostetters, Mrs. Singleton's and Mrs. Wilson's classes. Serenading "Santa Claus" was presented by pupils from Miss Dunlap's, Mrs. Keesling's and Mrs. Bradley's classes, and "A Dream of Christmas" by Mrs. Plumm's, Mrs. Saver's and Mrs. Davidson's.

The second entertainment included three numbers given by the upper grades. "The Chefs and Waitresses Come Out of the Kitchen," Miss Jasper's Miss Fabling's and Mrs. Souriseseaus pupils; King Winter's "Throne" by Miss Naylor's and Miss Merriam's classes and "The Nativity," Miss Mace's, Miss Nelson's and Miss McCracken's.

One feature of the carnival which was quite unusual and a real privilege for those attending was the exhibit of E. H. Cuttings paintings. These were essentially the same as those recently displayed in the Stanford Art Gallery, where they attracted the attention of hundreds of art enthusiasts. There were several recent garden studies and a beautiful fall one entitled "The Autumn Sycamore." The pictures will remain at school today and will then be again hung in Mr. Cuttings' studio on Harrison Avenue, which are not fully determined as yet.

The proceeds of the carnival will replenish the treasury of the P. T. A. and be expended for the benefit of the school.

GRANGE OFFICERS

The officers for Orchard City Grange for 1926 elected at their last meeting are, Louis Shelley, master, Harry Barnes, overseer; Mary Fablinger, lecturer; S. N. Hedegard, steward; L. L. Merrill, assistant steward; Mrs. Mary Parkhill, chaplain; F. S. Newcomb, treasurer; Edna F. Keesling, secretary; H. B. Whitehouse, gatekeeper; Mrs. Edith Turner, Ceres; Mrs. Lottie Sutter, Pomona; Miss Annie Schulte, Flora; Mrs. Bessie Merrill, L. A. S.; Lucia Whitney, pianist; Stanley B. Smith, executive committeeman three years.

An interesting social hour was enjoyed during which Mrs. Alda Blaine sang two solos and Miss Annie Schulte recited. State Master George R. Harrison, who was present spoke in very complimentary terms of the type of members of this organization. Mrs. Harrison accompanied her husband. A class of twenty-four took the initiatory degrees.

As there will be no delivery of mails to post office boxes, as heretofore, on Christmas Day, the public is urged to mail Christmas cards and letters for nearby and local delivery tomorrow or Monday. Do not expect those mailed at the eleventh hour to reach their desired haven until after December 25th.

A WORTHWHILE CHAMPION

Miss Josephine Spenker, a Modesto, California, high school girl, this year won the Pacific Coast milkmaid championship when, at a dairy show, she drew over five and one-half pounds of milk in less than two minutes. Here is a championship worth while! It beats all the beauty contests, because a pound of milk is a pound of milk, while beauty depends on the point of view. This subject could be made into a long editorial, but our intelligent readers probably are already "way ahead of us."

TWO NEW MEMBERS IN THE CLUB

With Admiral von Tirpitz willing that submarines be eliminated as instruments of war, and President Von Hindenberg signing the law authorizing acceptance of the Locarno pacts, it begins to look like peace in Europe as far as Germany is concerned. Altho not wishing to pick at an old sore, the world would be better off today had these two gentlemen had an earlier change of heart and attitude.

LEARNING BY MIXING

Instead of continually fighting each other, wise business men cooperate and learn from their fellow business men the various improved methods of merchandising and salesmanship. Business life is all too short in which we all may devise perfect systems. Necessarily, we must learn something from the other fellow.

The Christmas Spirit; It Can Never Be Cheap

SHE worked in what was considered a second-rate store in a big city. To her, though, the store was a beautiful one. And when it was decorated at Christmas time with its tinsel and gay Christmas touches, she thought it the most beautiful place on earth.

She loved the jewelry that was sold there. Sometimes she would hold a bit of cardboard from which hung a cheap earring to her ear and would think that when she got her pay the following week she might buy a pair. They were certainly becoming and would be more so when off the cardboard.

How crowded the store became around Christmas time. The people would look and admire and buy. She would be so busy. It was splendid to be busy, and even to be tired with the Christmas rush. There was something so stimulating about the Christmas rush.

There were several floor walkers in the store—an extra one was added for the Christmas season. True, their presence was not so magnificent as the floor walkers in the great, expensive stores, but they were grand to her. And she loved to say, with a beautiful manner:

"Just a moment, madame; I will call the floor walker."

And then, this Christmas, greater happiness than ever came to her. A most wonderful floor walker came as an "extra," but they said he would be taken on for good—he was such a capable man.

And she took him on for good. For hadn't they fallen in love with each other at once?

Oh, to some the store might seem cheap, the people in it might seem funny imitations of the people who belonged to the very expensive stores. But there was glorious Christmas happiness in that store. For it radiated the Christmas spirit. And the Christmas spirit can never be cheap!—Mary Graham Bonner.

It Was the Night Before Christmas

Little Snowflakes Glad to Be of Service on Greatest of All Days.

By W. D. PENNYPACKER

IT WAS one of the tiniest things imaginable. In all the whitened fields of late December it could scarcely be reckoned with. It was a snowflake. Fleeting was the span of its existence. Today, here, tomorrow possibly drawn into the moisture of the atmosphere, depending upon temperature, and where it chanced to fall.

Some say fairies fashion snow-crystals in wonderful workrooms and laboratories which man has not explored. It may be. They are more exquisitely cut than the rarest jewels.

It was the night before Christmas.

There was the usual sense of quiet which comes over things when the holiday rush and confusion ends—the sense of peace—perhaps the echo of that old song which man has so often and so ruthlessly heard and forgotten. It seems that the snowflake knew.

In the land whence snowflakes come there is a great chief. The country, if one speaks of it as such, is an absolute monarchy. But it is different from those our geographies name under Political Divisions. It is a monarchy ruled by love, where a desire to give happiness is the prevalent ambition.

So, on that night before Christmas, as the snowflakes danced about in great billowy clouds, some of them thought of companions already fallen to earth. Yes, some had fallen, and their beauty had lasted for a while, then disappeared.

Then the chief spoke:

"Fellows," he said, with an appealing note in his voice—a voice that had much of the plaintive sound of the north wind, "there is a service to perform. This is the night before the birthday of our King. Millions will worship Him when the morrow comes, but more, ignorant of its source, will seek to revel in the gladness which His coming brought and many millions more—" he went on.

"The nations of the world wait for that gladness. Once a year they seek to know the spirit and the significance of the Christmas time. They see vaguely what the carolling of angels and the song of shepherds was all about—and then forget. 'Perhaps,' he said, 'in the chaotic strivings of man's life he is not so much to blame.'"

Silence profound. A stillness like unto the silence of the plains before the angels uttered their refrain of "Peace, on earth, good will toward men."

"Comrades," said the chief, "Aye!" answered the crowd in a note that had the shrill keenness of the winter wind and yet was warm with an eagerness to serve.

"Down, just below us, there are boys and girls dreaming of Santa Claus, and snow, and sleighs, and sleds. To some, your going would give life and zest and happiness to Christmas. You may stay here, or go to give them joy."

Merry One for Mail Carriers

Postmaster General New has way about it, Christmas Day is going to be the biggest and the best for all the employees of the postal service and especially for the ever-faithful letter carriers.

He has issued orders to postmasters throughout the country that their offices will be closed all day Christmas except for the dispatch of special delivery letters and parcels and special handling letters and parcels.

In order that the vast army of carriers and clerks may enjoy Christmas Day to the fullest extent with their families and friends, the co-operation of every man, woman and child in the United States will be necessary.

Under the leadership of the Postmaster General, a campaign is now under way throughout the country to instill into the minds of everybody the necessity for shopping and mailing early in order that there will be as little congestion at the post offices as possible during Christmas week and in order that both the sender and receiver of gifts and remembrances may reap the happiness that is contemplated by such an exchange of presents.

Once more the Post Office Department urges the American public to do its Christmas shopping and mailing early. If the shopping is done now the buyer gets just what he or she wants and if the gift is mailed before December 15 it is sure to reach its destination in plenty of time before Christmas Day.

Expensive Presents Do Not Give Most Pleasure

MR. AND MRS. GORSE were invited to spend Christmas with Mr. Gorse's wealthy sister on her farm. "But we can't, we can't," insisted Mrs. Gorse. "Our rent has been raised this year, and living is so dear in town we cannot afford presents that even her children will enjoy."

"It's us they want, and not our gifts," rejoined Mr. Gorse. "You leave the presents to me."

On Christmas Day the Gorses drove up to the big white country house in their diver. Such a welcome as they received. Not an idle nor an embarrassing moment—even for Mrs. Gorse who discarded so reluctantly the weight of city poverty. Laughter, music, fun prevailed. And after dinner, when the grown-ups peeked into the nursery to see what the children were doing, Mr. Gorse had his triumph. The children had discarded their expensive toys, and sat in a circle on the floor playing industriously with some ten-cent magnets he had brought.

"You know our children's likes better than we do," said the charming hostess, as she led the Gorses back to the living room. "And nothing I received pleases me so much as the books you brought me, unless it is to have you here on Christmas day."

Even Mrs. Gorse knew that her words rang true.—H. Lucius Cook.

Coconut Balls

Into a saucepan put three cupfuls of granulated sugar, add two cupfuls cold water and boil until sugar spins thread from tip of fork dipped into it. Into this sirup stir a good-sized coconut, grated—the prepared dry coconut does not answer the purpose quite as well—take saucepan at once from fire and turn contents into bowl or set saucepan where candy will cool quickly. When cool enough to handle make into balls with the fingers, roll in powdered sugar and wrap in waxed paper.

Christmas trees tell an Electrical Story

YOUR Christmas trees come from mountains where lakes are reservoirs of energy.

In the cold fir-fringed mountains, lakes are filling and pouring their waters through flumes into the power houses. Power is generated. With the force of a thunderbolt it is transmitted through forests—up hill and down—to centers of distribution.

When a switch is turned at the home, farm, or factory, electricity mightily begins its task. Whether it is needed for house work, heavy harvest duty, or the steady grim pull on a factory belt—electricity is fully sufficient.

Thus, electricity lifts the burden of routine and drudgery from the shoulders of man to the tireless shoulders of the dynamo.

Every lake and stream in the mountains that adds kilowatts to the power lines means less hard work for someone, more freedom, and a richer chance for life.
